Art Unit: 1774

Claims 15, 16, 17, 22 and 23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

New claim 15 "the fiber" is vague and indefinite as to which fiber in claim 1 you are referring to. See claims 16, 17, 22 and 23 for the same problem.

New claim 17, line 2 "comprises a fiber" is vague and indefinite since it is written in aggregation. See MPEP 2173.05 (K). The claim fails to convey how new fiber of claim 17 combines with the filaments of claim 1 to form a consolidated yarn.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nelson (U.S. 4,403,470) alone or optionally taken with GB 924,086.

Once again, for the record, a consolidated yarn is a yarn which has been entangled or commingled with two component filament (See Adams U.S. 4,080,778' as authority).

Nelson, a Dupont patent, teaches a composite yarn of staple fiber commingled with continuous filaments yield a consolidated yarn. See abstract and drawing of Nelson. Nelson further teaches any fiber forming synthetic organic polymer or inorganic fiber can be used as the continuous filaments or staple fibers, this encompasses claim 1-4. See column 3, line 52-end.

Art Unit: 1774

In the alternative, GB 924,086 a Dupont patent, is cited to show, for example, fiber forming polymer and inorganic fiber use in composite yarn as taught in Nelson inherently include Nylon, polyester, acrylics, silk, rayon, glass and acetate etc.

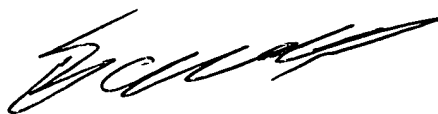

Claim 25 (24, 21 20, 19, 18) objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.02(I)(3). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
